DATE	:	4th July, 2025
TIME	:	03:00 p.m.
VENUE	:	Online Platform
RESOURCE PERSON	:	Mr. Girish Sarangi
NO. OF PARTICIPANTS	:	117

INTRODUCTION

To align with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and the emphasis on learner-centred approaches, a National level Faculty Development Programme on the Role of Andragogy in Higher Education was conducted by IQAC of D.B.M.S. College of Education. The objective was to acquaint the faculty with andragogical principles and explore their application in enhancing teaching-learning practices in higher education. The session was been conducted through Google meet an online platform. 117 participants joined the session, featured by Mr. Girish Sarangi as the resource person, who delivered an insightful presentation on importance of andragogy in today's educational landscape.

OBJECTIVES

- To understand the concept and principles of andragogy.
- To differentiate between pedagogy and andragogy in teaching-learning processes.

- Participants used chat box/ microphones for interaction.
- Attendance was recorded via google forms and platform join data screenshot.
- A final feedback form was sent to assess the overall quality and effectiveness of the session.
- The participants were sent e- certificates.
- A formal valedictory was conducted online with reflections by participants and concluding remarks by the college IQAC Coordinator, Dr. Monika Uppal.
- The vote of thanks was delivered by Mrs. Pamela Ghosh Dutta, Assistant Professor.

OUTCOMES

- Faculty members gained a deeper understanding of adult learning principles.
- Participants identified student engagement strategies based on andragogy.
- Enhanced focus on self-directed and reflective learning was observed in faculty teaching plans post-FDP.
- Faculty committed to adopting participative teaching methods in their courses.

CONCLUSION

The FDP on Role of Andragogy in Higher Education proved to be an enriching experience for faculty. It bridged the gap between theoretical knowledge and classroom practice. The insights gained will help in creating learner-centric and outcome-based educational environments, as expected by NAAC and NEP 2020.

Introduction

Teaching learning process is a process with three phases of teaching as –Pre-active; Interactive and Post active phases. To impart these phases there is a need the knowledge on PEDAGOGY or ANDRAGOGY for children and adult respectively.

In the early 1970s when andragogy and the concept that adults and children learn differently was first introduced in the United States by Malcolm Knowles, the idea was groundbreaking and sparked much subsequent research and controversy. Since the earliest days, adult educators have debated what andragogy really is?

Subject: Heartfelt Thanks for Your Valuable Session on “Role of Andragogy in Higher Education”

Respected Sir

On behalf of D.B.M.S. College of Education, I extend my sincere gratitude to you for delivering an insightful and thought-provoking presentation on the “Role of Andragogy in Higher Education” during Online Faculty Development Program held on 4th July 2025.

Your articulate presentation and deep understanding of adult learning principles truly enriched the knowledge of our faculty members. The practical perspectives you shared, combined with your engaging delivery, helped participants appreciate the significance of learner-centered approaches in today’s educational landscape.

We are especially grateful for your time and dedication to enhancing the professional competencies of our educators. Your session not only added great value to the program but also inspired many to rethink their teaching methodologies in alignment with andragogical principles.

Once again, thank you for your meaningful contribution. We look forward to future opportunities of learning from your expertise.

DBMS College hosts FDP on andragogy in higher education

Mail News Service

Jamshedpur, July 6: DBMS College of Education conducted an online Faculty Development Program (FDP) on the topic "Role of Andragogy in Higher Education".

The session featured Girish Kumar Sarangi as the resource person, who delivered an insightful presentation on the importance of andragogy in today's educational landscape. His talk highlighted how adult learning strategies can enhance teaching effectiveness in higher education.

The program began with a warm welcome and formal introduction by Dr. Joohi Samarpita, Principal of DBMS College of Education. Dr. Monika Uppal, IQAC Coordinator, efficiently anchored the session, ensuring its smooth execution. Technical support was managed by Sudip Pramanik, facilitating an uninterrupted experience for all attendees.

Pamela Ghosh Dutta delivered the vote of thanks, expressing appreciation to the speaker, participants, and the organizing team.

Over 100 faculty members from across the country participated in the event, reflecting a strong interest in innovative teaching practices and professional development.
