PROCESS

The event began with a warm welcome and felicitation of Dr. Mahesh Hembram, Psychiatrist at Sadar Hospital, Khasmahal. He delivered an enriching talk on the importance of mental health, especially among adolescents, and elaborated on the different types of mental illnesses such as anxiety, depression, and learning disorders.

Dr. Hembram also discussed who can be mainstreamed through inclusive education, and emphasized the role of teachers and parents in early identification and emotional support. He guided students on how to deal with stress and behavioral issues among school children.

The session concluded with an interactive question and answers by the students of batch 2024-26, where Dr. Hembram addressed several queries raised by students and shared practical tips for mental care in classrooms.

OUTCOME

- ❖ Students gained greater understanding of mental health issues and their impact on learning.
- ❖ Participants learned how to identify, support, and accommodate learners with emotional and psychological difficulties.
- ❖ The session encouraged future teachers to adopt inclusive and empathetic teaching practices.
- ❖ Students actively interacted and had many of their doubts clarified.
