REPORT

Title of the Programme ; World Water Day Celebration
Organizing Club : Eco Club
Date : 22nd March 2025

CONTEXT

World Water Day is observed annually on March 22nd to highlight the significance of freshwater and advocate for the sustainable management of water resources. In light of the growing water crisis globally and in India, the ECO CLUB of D.B.M.S. College of Education organized a special programme to educate and inspire students and the community about the urgent need for water conservation and sustainable practices.

OBJECTIVES

- To raise awareness about the importance of freshwater and sustainable water use.
- To educate students about the global and local water crisis.
- To promote responsible habits for water conservation in daily life.
- To inspire action through stories of individuals and organizations working to protect water resources.

PROCESS

The World Water Day celebration commenced with a special morning assembly, where students Prabha Kiran and Shumaila Alam shared impactful speeches on the significance of water and the growing global water crisis. A thought-provoking poem was recited by Asai Kandulna, effectively conveying the emotional and practical importance of preserving water.

Following this, students participated in a documentary screening focused on India's water crisis. The film provided valuable insights into the current challenges related to water scarcity and highlighted practical solutions.

A major highlight of the event was the story of Rajendra Singh, popularly known as the Waterman of India. His pioneering efforts in water conservation and river rejuvenation were shared to demonstrate the power of individual and collective action in addressing environmental issues.

OUTCOME

- Students developed a deeper understanding of the water crisis both globally and locally.
- The programme successfully instilled a sense of urgency and responsibility toward water conservation.
- Many students expressed interest in adopting water-saving habits and sharing their learning with family and peers.
- The inspiring example of Rajendra Singh motivated students to believe in the power of grassroots efforts to bring about real change.

CONCLUSION

The World Water Day celebration at our institution was an informative and inspiring event that emphasized the urgent need for sustainable water use and conservation. Through engaging activities and powerful storytelling, students were not only educated but also motivated to take meaningful action in their everyday lives. The event effectively fostered a sense of environmental stewardship and collective responsibility, aligning with the global call to "Water for Peace and Sustainability."
