INTRODUCTION

D.B.M.S. College of Education proudly celebrates the exceptional performance of its B.Ed 2024-2026 batch in the Horticulture Value-Added Course. This annual program transforms students into skilled gardeners, blending education with environmental stewardship. Guided by mentors Mr. Barun Maity and Mr. Chandan, their year-long efforts culminated in outstanding wins at the Annual Flower Show.

CONTEXT

At D.B.M.S. College of Education, the Horticulture Value-Added Course inspires B.Ed students yearly, offering hands-on learning beyond the classroom. The 2024-2026 batch dove in for the past year, mastering garden rose cultivation, plant propagation, and fruit-vegetable growing under expert supervision. This turned theoretical lessons into vibrant campus green spaces, aligning with the college's push for sustainable practices.

OBJECTIVE

The course sought to:

- Build practical horticulture skills for everyday and professional use.

On December 28, 2025, they competed in the Amateur Category of the Annual Flower Show, securing 14 prizes.

Distribution happened on December 31, 2025, at the Gopal maidan, Bistupur. On January 29, 2026, "Garden of the Year" contributors received management gift cards for their beautification efforts in D.B.M.S. College Multipurpose Hall.

IMPACT

The achievements boosted student confidence, enhanced campus beauty, and highlighted the college's vocational programs. It inspired peers, strengthened community links, and promoted eco-awareness, with mentors' guidance amplifying real-world application.

OUTCOME

Key results include 14 prizes in the Amateur Category, festive prize distribution on December 31, 2025, and gift card recognitions on January 29, 2026. These successes sowed seeds for ongoing horticulture engagement and future wins.
